

MYTHBUSTER #1 – Jericho’s Prom

Scene I

In the faculty room conversing...

A

I’m not gossiping, but did you hear that two girls want to go to the prom together, but the school won’t allow it?

B

You mean together together, like, as a couple?

C

I remember seeing something about that on the news. Same sex couples aren’t allowed to go together to high school proms.

D

Wait, you mean here at Jericho they can’t go together to the prom? That’s completely not true.

B

Yes it is. I heard that two years ago, a male student wanted to attend with his partner, and he wasn’t allowed to. And he was a great kid who did so much for the school.

D

Let’s clear this up right now. I’m going to call the assistant principal.

(Walks to phone, picks up, dials)

Hi, Maureen? This is D. Does Jericho allow same sex couples at our senior prom?

Scene II

In the assistant principal’s office.

Ms. Apparius

(holding telephone to ear, listening...)

Actually, I’m glad you’re asking this question. It’s a myth that we don’t allow same sex couples to attend prom together. Jericho has always promoted equality and safety for all our students. Prom is no exception. All of our students are welcome to prom whether their partner is of the same sex or not.
